MADE TO PLAY

an activity that encourages learning through following guidelines and working as a group

2. OPENING ACTIVITY

WHAT YOU NEED: Soft playground ball

WHAT YOU DO:

- Instruct the kids to stand in a circle.
- Remind kids of the four seasons: winter, spring, summer, and fall.
- One by one, name each season and discuss it.
- Invite the kids to share things associated with each season.
- Give examples to get them started, like:
 - Spring: flowers, rain, joy
 - Fall: pumpkins, leaves, jackets
 - Winter: cold, snow, Christmas
 - Summer: pool, hot, sun
- Explain that you're going to play a game associated with the seasons.
- Pick a kid to go first.
- Give that kid the ball.
- Explain the rules:
 - Instruct the kid with the ball to pick another kid in the circle to toss the ball to.
 - As the first kid tosses the ball, direct them to say the name of a season out loud.
 - Direct the kid who catches the ball to share something associated with that season out loud.
 - Instruct the kid who caught the ball to share a season and repeat the steps above.
- Continue in the same way until everyone has had a turn.

MONTHLY VIRTUE

Resilience—Getting back up when something gets you down

BASIC TRUTH

I can trust God no matter what.

WHAT YOU SAY:

"Great job, everyone! I enjoyed getting to explore how each season brings up different things for you. You know, different scenarios in our lives bring different emotions too. [Transition] Today, we'll hear all about an emotion that reminds me of a rainy day. I bet you can guess what it is!"

* 2. FEELINGS THERMOSTAT [LIVE FOR GOD | APPLICATION ACTIVITY]

WHAT YOU NEED: "Feelings Thermometer" Activity Page, and coloring supplies

WHAT YOU DO:

- Gather kids together in your group space.
- Give each kid a "Feelings Thermometer" Activity Page.
- Explain to kids that we all experience different emotions each day. With whatever we are feeling, we can know that Jesus is right there with us!
- Walk through the feelings on the "Feelings Thermometer" Activity Page together, pointing out the different emotions and the types of weather they might make us think of.
- Invite kids to take a moment and identify how they're feeling.
- Ask:
 - How do you react when you feel these emotions? Draw a picture or write in the box.
- Point out the "Resilience Kit" column. Let kids know that this tool kit is full of ways to help us process our emotions, including when we're sad or lonely.
- Review some of the tools that are in the "Resilience Kit" column of the "Feelings Thermometer" Activity Page.
 - Here are more details about the "tap my fingers together ten times" tool: Place the palms of both hands together with each finger touching. Starting with your thumbs, tap each set of fingers together until you get to your pinky fingers. Start with your pinkies and make your way back to your thumbs.
- Set out the coloring supplies.
- Invite the kids to color the weather column and decorate as they choose.

Resilience—Getting back up when something gets you down

BASIC TRUTH

I can trust God no matter what.

WHAT YOU SAY:

"Wow, these thermometers are looking fantastic! What a great tool to help us check in with our emotions and work through them. Who do you trust to talk to about how you're feeling? (Invite responses.) God gives us special people in our lives to help us in good times and tough ones too. Maybe it's a grown-up, a leader at church, or maybe a teacher. This week, think about the people God has given you to help you when you're down.

"We will all experience sadness. Whether we're missing a loved one, feeling left out, or struggling at school, remember that God can give us the resilience and courage to get back up, even when we still feel sad or lonely.

"When you're sad, remember you're not alone. Jesus is right there with you!"

[Make It Personal] (Share about a time you were sad and didn't feel alone because Jesus was with you and offered you hope.)

4. PRAY AND DISMISS [PRAY TO GOD | PRAYER ACTIVITY]

WHAT YOU NEED: Butcher paper, markers, colored pencils, and crayons

WHAT YOU DO:

- Lay a large piece of butcher paper out on the floor or on a table in your group space.
- Use a marker to write when you're sad, remember you're not alone on the butcher paper.
- Set out the markers, colored pencils, and crayons.
- Instruct the kids to work together to draw a large rainbow on the paper.
 - If you have a large group, divide the group and create two rainbows on the butcher paper.
- As the group works together, ask:
 - "When you think about Jesus, what is one word that comes to mind?" (Share some examples, like: strong, kind, helpful, comforting.)
- Use a darker marker to write down the words kids come up with on the rainbow(s).
- Gather the group together to pray.

Resilience—Getting back up when something gets you down

BASIC TRUTH

I can trust God no matter what.

WHAT YOU SAY:

"Dear God, thank You for giving us hope! Please help every friend here know that when they are sad, they are not alone because You are always with them. Remind us of the joy we have in You no matter what, and help us see signs of hope like a rainbow in the sky You bring after the hard times. We love You, and we pray these things in Jesus' name. Amen."

As adults arrive to pick up, invite kids to show off their "Feelings Thermometer." Ask kids to share with their grown-ups which tool from the resilience kit they plan to try this week! Invite adults to hang the thermometer up in a place where the entire family can see it and practice working through their emotions together.
